Do not under-estimate the time needed to complete a single track. We recommend that for 4/5 piece bands that you do not attempt more than 3 full tracks in a single session. Better to get 3 great tracks than 4 or 5 reasonable tracks.

It takes time to master a track to its final demo state. You may be able to play it in 3 minutes but by the time you've done half a dozen takes (to your satisfaction) and then mastered it, it will probably have take a couple of hours. NEW @ ARTS-STUDIOS Check out our NEW online ARTIST SECTION which includes artist biogs, digital downloads, demos, on-line training media, studio tuition and much more. Would you or your band like to be featured? Just send us an email or sign-up and upload a demo.
